This week 24hr-security.com is pleased to announce that we have teamed up with ADI Global to source the best fire and evacuation products for our 24hr-fire.com business which is part of 24hr-security.com.

Mark Deaville is the manager of 24hr-security.com and has been trained in bushfire fighting and was a volunteer with the South Yunderup-Ravenswood Bush Fire Brigade and the West Swan Bushfire Brigade.

He Says,

“After attending the ADI Global road show in the Burswood Exhibition Complex we noticed that the need for fire safety services is an important facet of most businesses. We are currently protecting these businesses in the security realm.

By teaming up with ADI Global and choosing them to supply our products will show the focus and attention to detail that we have been offering our clients in security and can now be offered in evacuation and fire services.” ENDS
